

SnoozeLoze

Sleep smart. Have more fun.

User Manual

Account

Create an account

The application enables you to chose an unique username, which will not be displayed to other users. To avoid the situation where you fill in the wrong password during the sign up, you will be asked to confirm your password.

Stay logged in

By clicking the “Remember me” button, SnoozeLoze will save your login details. This way you will not have to fill in your log in details every time you run the app. Pretty smooth isn´t it :D.

Log out

In some situations you may have to change account logged in, or maybe you’ve just gotten tired of your friends and family keeping track of you. In this case you can log out, simply by pressing the settings button in the upper right corner and choose “log out”.

Groups

To be able to share you alarm with colleagues, friends or family members you or any of the users that you chose to interact with must create a group.

Create and share groups

When creating a group the creator (user) will have to come up with a unique group ID and a password which will have to be confirmed. This information will be the access to the group for other users who wants to join it. This means that the creator will have to distribute the groups log in details to the users that are meant to join the group. This also leaves you as a users the ability to avoid uninvited users to join your group/s.

Group information

To get information about the groups and their members, such as group name, users names, alarms etc. click on the group you want to receive information about. That easy!

Alarm

Set the alarm

To set the alarm and share it with a group, first click on the group you want the alarm to be valid for. When in that group, use the timepicker to set the time you wish the alarm to go off at. The alarm should now be shared and visible to other groupmembers. If the alarm logo lights green, it is indicating that the alarm is active.

Snooze

When the alarm goes off the user could either click “turn off” or “snooze”. If the user picks “Snooze”, other group members will be able to send him or her textmessages.

Keep track of your friends

If you want to know if your friends have set an alarm at the time agreed upon, just click the group he or she is in and check what time is set and whether the alarm is green (as in active), grey (as in inactive) or red as in snoozing!
